

Name: Mohamed Amin

1-article:element represents a self-contained composition in a document, such as a blog post but it doesn't make any virtual difference but it can be used in the css as selector.

2-main: it is used for things that are unique in the document and shouldn't be repeated as the nav bar , footer

3-figure: the media content is written in it as photos

4-figcaption: it is used to add description to the media in the <figure> tag

5-details and summary: the details make virtual widget that can be open or closed and used to provide more information and the summary is used as header for the content written in the <details>